I want better Matfyz.

(1) Free printing in the libraries

End of preposterous issuing of invoices for 5 CZK. Printing in the libraries, up to a certain capacity, should be free for students.

(2) Decent restrooms in all buildings

A visit of men's restrooms doesn't have to be the most uncomfortable part of the day. Dividers between urinals should be in every Matfyz building.

(3) University communication doesn't belong to Microsoft servers

It is a responsibility of the university to ensure privacy and security of data when communicating through an official university channel. The rollout of the system administrated by Microsoft, among other problems, completely rules out the fulfilment of this requirement. There are well-founded concerns that the data stored at Microsoft servers might be misused. The Microsoft 365 system does not support end-to-end encryption. I advocate an unequivocally negative stance of the faculty towards the rollout of the M365 system.
